To whom it may concern:

Paul Wagensomer was the general contractor for the build-out of the premises of our Little Caesars restaurant in late 2011. We are extremely pleased with the experience of working with him and with the results of his work.

We had a very small window of time for the construction and he completed by our targeted opening date. His crews and subcontractors did quality work. His knowledge of codes and regulations enabled fast passage of inspections. He coordinated the interaction of multiple teams so that work flowed smoothly and there were no delays or issues with materials.

In addition, he provided us with advice and ideas for details that we believe will give us better service from our facility and lower maintenance in the years to come. Please let me know if you have any questions.
